WE NOMINATE

Bernard Paul Miller, 35-year old RCA scientist and a full-time Princetonian for some eight years, who this week—just a quarter-century after members of this community helped shape the atomic age—is rightfully being hailed for his contributions to the historic moon mission of the Ranger 7 Spacecraft. To Miller, Project Manager for the Ranger 7's incredibly effective TV System built here by RCA's Astro-Electronics Division, belongs a major share of the credit for obtaining the 4,516 pictures which are considered the most significant stride in moon study since Galileo made his initial telescopic observations in the 17th century.

The extraordinary results of the Ranger 7 flight, "one of the most successful and productive experiments in scientific history," were all the more dramatic in view of the fact that six short months ago the Ranger 6 probe had been an abysmal and disheartening failure from the point of view of "moon photography." Ever since the bitter February disappointment Miller and his associates here, on the West Coast and at Cape Kennedy had made their "rework and redesign" of the 6-camera television system a 24-hour-a-day 7 days-a-week job. Throughout his heart-pounding period Miller commuted between his Princeton headquarters and California and Florida.

Over the weekend Miller voiced regret that he had not said something more dramatic, or possibly more appropriate, when "we first confirmed that we were seeing the moon with our cameras" and when "we got full power" (the words that had failed to come on the flight of Ranger 6). In the last 13 minutes of the 68-hour, 241,000-mile flight, the two chains of cameras, one with two cameras and the other with four and each with its own power supply and controls, transmitted one picture every 2-tenths of a second as compared with the 30 pictures a second produced by home TV.

For the Millers, Carnegie Lake sailing enthusiasts and with four children ranging in age from 12 years to 3 months, the "moon shot" became a family affair. "My wife, Elaine," Miller recalled, "learned to live with it as if she were a part of the business, taking phone calls in the middle of the night to call me to the lab. Both of our older children were at the office on weekends while Ranger 7 was being built and they saw the spacecraft that landed on the moon, for there was nothing classified about our work." In the RCA control room last Friday morning (see page 22) Mrs. Miller heard her husband flash the word that "excellent pictures are being received."

The Boston-born Miller, manager of the Ranger Project since last September, grew up on Philadelphia's "Main Line" and received his bachelor's degree in aeronautical engineering at Pennsylvania State University in 1950. He subsequently carried forward graduate work at the Air Force Institute of Technology and here at the University. From 1950 to 1957, as an Air Force captain, he did research and development work at the aeronautical laboratories at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio and immediately upon to joining RCA, taught for three years at the United States Naval Academy.

For helping make the age-old dream, "reaching for the moon," an attainable objective in the 20th century, for his part in a national achievement that momentarily eased the national heartaches of the present; for congratulating all others with a quiet "we've done it"; he is our nominee as

OVERFLOWING MAILBOX
The Customers Always Write.
In other years, letters to TOWN TOPICS' Mailbox have normally been written during the indoor season — when the winds are biting and the slush is ankle deep. Not so in the summer of 1964: this week, as the weather turned from the humid 90's to a pleasantly cool reading in the high 70's, various Princetonians sat down to express their thoughts in writing.

Just as the national scene has been full of Sen. Goldwater's presidential aspirations and of the endless battle over civil rights, so these two highly controversial issues are dominating this week in TOWN TOPICS' columns. Replies have been forthcoming from Goldwater backers to the attack on his political philosophy in last week's issue, while correspondence on civil rights comes from PAIR and from a quartet of students charging discrimination in a Princeton barber shop.

The controversy over a proposed swimming pool complex near the Shopping Center has again drawn comment. Others write in response to various articles in last week's TOWN TOPICS, including the tribute to the late Dr. Charles G.
Osgood.

Letters to the Editor are always welcome, and every effort will be made to publish in full those under 500 words.
Subjects touching on the Princeton community will invariably receive preference. It is unlikely that thoughts on the already - heated presidential race can continually be given space once the busy fall season arrives.

This week, these were among Princetonians' thoughts:
Osgood Memorial Appreciated.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Some one said to me yesterday, "Have you read the tribute to Professor Osgood in the New York Times?" It was wonderful.

I replied, "No, but I have

Better Than Swimming Pools.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Among the several public conveniences that might be sited at the Shopping Center that would have a more urgent appeal than the proposed swimming pool, I can name a fully equipped branch Post Office, a ditto Public Library, and last but not least,
a row of sanitary pay toilets
with attendant.

Swimming Pool Fee Too High.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Hurrah for Dr. Bierman! He has stated, I think, what most of us feel about this pool situation.

In "Topics of the Times"
July 30, Mr. Warnecke states that the property should be developed to fit in with the land in the adjoining corner which was donated to Princeton to be used as a public playground.

Can Mr. Warnecke please explain to me, what is public about an initial fee of $250
and a fee of $100 a year?
Moreover, this would assuredly not be a "Princeton Community Swimming Facility" as stated by Mr. Warnecke.

There could be nothing communal about this type of swimming club. "Community" means the whole, not just those people who can afford to pay this exorbitant fee.

As Dr. Bierman said, we have had "promises, promises, promises" about the improvement of our Shopping Center.
I am always ashamed to have new visitors to Princeton see this "dump."

An attractive fence or large bushes would do so much to hide the facades of the ugly shops. Is Mr. Warnecke concerned about this? Hardly.

As far as traffic is concerned
we, on Teahume Road, are already alarmed, not only at the "break-through" to Harrison, but more importantly,
the extension to Mt. Lucas Road and Route 206. Even now we see cars go down our street at 30 or 60 miles an hour, in a 25 mile-an-hour zone and this includes several police cars.

There are many small children in the area and no action will be taken until one of them is either killed or seriously injured. The "No Parking" on the north side of the street simply enables the pedestrian to breeze from Harrison to Jefferson in a matter of seconds.

If and when Mr. Warnecke and his financial associates do something about the present, deplorable state of the Shopping Center, we can all then talk in terms of developing that corner.

Until then, let us all work together for that really Community Pool at the Park on Route 206.

Discrimination Charged.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Forty high school sophomores were chosen throughout New Jersey to attend a special educational program at Princeton University. We are members of this Princeton Summer Studies Program.

On July 18, some of us in the program went into town to get haircuts. We stopped at Frank's Barber Shop on Witherspoon Street.

Our group was part white and part Negro. When we went into the shop, Frank told the Negro boys that he did not have the right kind of clippers to cut their hair.

He explained that their hair was wavy and would hurt his blades. He suggested that they go down the street to a colored barber shop.

The group went to the Nassau Barber Shop nearby. The same clippers were used there for white customers were also used for the Negro boys in our group.

On the following Saturday,
July 25, a similar incident occurred at Frank's. Two Negroes in the program were asked to leave the shop because they did not have an appointment.
Frank said that he was booked until the following Wednesday. Tom Ainsworth, a local white boy in the program, who was in the shop at the time, offered his place to one of the Negro boys. Frank said,
"We don't work that way."

Professor Sheldon Judson, director of the summer studies, is projects on campus, visited the incident while he was getting a haircut. He had no appointment.

Later Dr. McCracken, coordinator of the Princeton Summer Studies Program, and Curt Noel, a Negro counselor, sent to Frank's shop because they were concerned about the incidents. Curt was refused a haircut.

When he asked for a shave, Frank told him that he does not give shaves to his customers. Curt then asked if it was because he was black.

We think so from the evidence. We are certain that Frank is guilty of discrimination against Negroes, and we are disgusted. We still don't believe it could happen here in a New Jersey city in 1964, especially Princeton.

Princetonians are said to be proud of their town, the University, but do they really know all the facts? We believe that minorities such as these should be acted upon, and we are writing to your paper for results. All residents of Princeton should be aware of this problem, and, we hope, act against it.

(Editor's note: "I honestly do not know how to cut Negro hair," said Frank Landolfi, owner of the barber shop, in commenting on the letter. He said that he did not refuse to cut the boys' hair, but merely told them that he did not know how and did not have the special tools which he had been told were necessary. "I isn't that I'm against them," said Mr. Landolfi, "but because I don't know how to do the cutting, it would take me longer and my white customers would have to wait and they might get tired of waiting and go somewhere else.")

"Miss Dove" No Comedy.

To the Editor of Town Topics: I expect that William McCleery might share my disappointment in reading your announcement concerning his new appointment, (as editor of the Princeton University quarterly "University") when you describe "Good Morning, Miss Dove" as a "comedy." I enclose a clipping from Friday's New York Times for what is surely a more accurate statement concerning Mr. McCleery's writing activities.

E. DONALD GUSTAFSON
Skillman

Editor's Note: The New York Times referred to "Good Morning, Miss Dove" as a novel projected for the Broadway stage. TOWN TOPICS' definition of the novel as a comedy was based on the release prepared by a source actually considered highly reliable by the University's Department of Public Information.

Post Office Example Hailed.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Users of the excellently-staffed Princeton Post Office on Palmer Square must be struck by the affable efficiency of two men who rather recently have begun working in the parcel and general delivery windows. It so happens that one is colored and the other not.

Without wishing to embellish either, may I be permitted to remark that I think their attitude is "All-American." What a gratifying example this stellar performance of two United States civil servants is, coming as it does during a racially upset summer. More power to such as these!

Conservatism Are Realists.

To the Editor of Town Topics: The gist and gravamen of this correspondent is to rebuke the Stop Goldwater letter appearing in last week's issue of your paper.

The results of the Republican Convention portend the following political situation, contrary to the connotations given to same by Messrs. Mantell and Sloane: The awakening of the American people toward a political philosophy which accepts the realities of the political facts of life facing this country.

Conservatism, in contradiction to "liberalism," is a philosophy which has always coped with reality. The generic disappointment of "liberalism" is its inability to face reality.

The grass roots sentiment is toward a conservative philosophy which takes cognizance of the tremendous endeavors of our forbears in building an affluent society. We conservatives are weary of the present, a present which refutes reality; we dread a future which appraises the insatiable hunger of communism, a communism bent on destroying western civilization.

Conservatives will fight to halt the spreading cancer of communism; to strengthen the private enterprise system; to provide a reaffirmation of constitutional government; a bridging of the federal monstrosity to uphold the dignity of the individual.

Unhappy Democrats.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Hear! Hear! Now is the time for all good men to forsake the Grand Old Party.

The alarm, sounded by Messrs. Mantell and Sloane is intended to bring Demo-Liberals scrambling from beneath their beds to man the Liberal ramparts. Unprecedented unity is to be achieved in support of traditional Democratic court packing, strike-breaking, steel-smelting, Bobby Baker-coddling moderation in government.

For balance however let's use the blade's other edge. Robert Frost said he'd been a Democrat all his life and unhappy since 1936. Princeton area Democrats are not by and large vintage Frost, but I'll bet there is more than one who has been unhappy since 1932 or thereabout.

For these poor souls there is at last an acceptable alternative, a candidate who is liberal in the original sense of the word. I urge such people to join us to help elect Senator Goldwater this November and thus to right the portside list of our foundering ship of state.

Senator Goldwater has said the only way to beat a bad idea is with a better idea. The Republican party has finally acceded to this line, and it is now incumbent upon all like-minded Americans to unite in active support of the better idea.

PUBLIC HEARINGS SET
By Township Committee.
Township ordinances concerning the sale of alcoholic beverages and the paving of Oakland Street will be open for public hearing on August 17.

The first reading of the ordinances was approved by the Township Committee in Monday evening's brief session.

At present, Sunday sale of liquor is limited to the dining rooms of hotels and restaurants between 12:30 and 9 p.m. The ordinance is being extended to include "public rooms," bringing the Township in line with the Borough's amended ordinance.

ordinance of about a month's 99-year lease, in view of the "substantial investment of equipment."

● The Oakland Street ordinance proposes to pave the unpaved section and to widen the presently-paved block from 26 feet to 30 feet. On the suggestion of Committeeman Carl C. Schafer, side curbing is substituted for concrete curbing to save over $4,000 in costs. "You've just earned a year's pay," Mayor William L. Wilson said.

● Housekeeping. A miscellany of municipal matters also came before the Committee.

● The restoration of Patrolman Anthony Diafori was accepted with "we hate to see him go." Mr. Diafori is moving to Dallas, Texas. The Township has a waiting list of applicants. Committeeman Walter B. Foster said.

● Vinch and Sons of Trenton submitted the low bid, $19,676.25, for the paving for Pretty Brook Road. The sum of $26,500 had been authorized by ordinance. Bids for the resurfacing of Woodside Lane were rejected, as all were over the $5,000 on hand from the developer's defective performance bond. The Committee will advertise for new bids, deleting the specification concerning the raising of manholes.

"I hope we don't get caught the way the Borough school board did," Mayor Wilson said. The Borough board rejected paint bids as too high and because of time shortage, was forced to accept a higher bid on the second round.

● The Committee agreed to lease a well in the Edgerstone area for a term of 50 years to the Princeton Water Company at $100 a year. The well will be located low ground and so constructed that a road can be built over it. The water company had requested the report on the successful fall basketball and spring baseball program was heard and forwarded to the newly-formed Borough-Township recreation board.

● The 1963 audit was announced as open to the public at the clerk's office. The year ended with a surplus of nearly $290,000.

Mayor Wilson prefaced the executive session with a summary of items to be discussed: office space, Lake Carnegie safety measures, an easement in open space requirements, parking on Harrison Street, loading on Guyot and a short term loan to finance the Township's share of the Public Library project.

NEW BLOOD PLAN IN USE
At Princeton Hospital, new laboratory equipment which enables technicians to separate human blood safely into four components — plasma, red cells, white cells and platelets — has resulted in a new system of blood banking at Princeton Hospital.

The announcement, together with a description of the new system and its medical implications, was made this week by Dr. Stanley Bauer, director of the hospital's laboratory.

In the past, Dr. Bauer explained, a patient could be given only whole blood. Today, with "blood component therapy," a doctor can prescribe exactly the blood component his patient needs, whether red cells, white cells, platelets or plasma.

Because the human body can absorb only so much whole blood, the use of blood components means that a patient can be given more of just that blood part he really needs. And, of course, the pint of blood given by a volunteer donor can be stretched just that much farther, Dr. Bauer pointed out.

New Blood, New Bottles. The donor himself will notice the new plan in operation when he sees the plastic container that has replaced the familiar glass bottle as the blood repository. In plastic, blood can he preserved longer and in a more normal state than it can in glass, Dr. Bauer said.

Plastic containers are also useful in giving transfusions to infants and children because they allow the blood to be subdivided into small units. In the past, when a small transfusion was given to a child, the rest of the blood had to be discarded.

After the whole blood has been drawn into the plastic container, it is stored under refrigeration. When a doctor orders a blood prescription, laboratory technicians put the plastic container into a refrigerated centrifuge and spin it about 20 minutes.

The centrifuge acts like a cream separator, spinning out the various components of the whole blood. Without this centrifuge, Dr. Bauer said, it would be impossible to separate the blood into parts. Until recently, refrigerated centrifuges of this type have been too expensive, Dr. Bauer added.

As an example of the usefulness of component therapy, Dr. Bauer cited the needs of the hemophilic, or "bleeder." There are in Princeton a number of hemophilics who frequently need transfusions of fresh frozen plasma, the physician said.

Until now, Princeton Hospital has had to obtain emergency supplies from Philadelphia or New York, but today, the hospital can manufacture and bank its own fresh frozen plasma.

Dr. Bauer emphasized throughout his explanation the importance of the individual donor, whose cooperation is vital to the success of the new program. Dr. Bauer praised the "wonderful and industrious job of the Red Cross in obtaining blood."

Question of the Month

*August, will you Always be Cool and fresh
And nice to me?*

Whatever it might bring, August began in everyone's good graces by replacing July heat and humidity with weather that was almost of the "light-blanket-at-night" variety. It was most pleasant, even if temporary. Indications are that the thermometer will edge up a bit in the next few days, but not to the 90's. Showers are unlikely in any volume for the rest of the week.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED

For Windsor Shoppers. Another plan for a West Windsor shopping center was heard Monday evening by the Township Planning Board.

Joseph Luther discussed his tentative proposal to build five or six stores on the old Conover farm, Hightstown Road. The 100,000-square-foot project located in an area now zoned rural would require a variance.

The board also has before it the proposal of Sands and Associates of Princeton who want to build a $750,000 shopping center on a site about a mile away from the Luther project. On August 18, Mr. Luther will present preliminary plans for review. At the same meeting, the Board will set a date for a public hearing on West Windsor Township's new master plan.

PHYSICS LAW DOUBTED

In Princeton Research. The work of four Princeton University physicists has cast serious doubt on the validity of one of the most profound and basic laws of physics, that of "time reversal invariance."

The physicists are Dr. James W.

Cronin, Dr. Val L. Fitch and Dr. Rene Turlay, guest physicist who is on leave from the Centre d'Etudes Nucleaires in Saclay, France. A report of their first results appears in the July 27 issue of "Physical Review Letters," a publication of the American Physical Society.

According to the rule of time reversal invariance, physical laws remain unchanged when the direction of time is reversed in other words, general relativity or any other physical law, would be the same in a universe whose time runs against the flow of our own time.

Operating in the world of high energy physics — the realm of the very small — the Princeton scientists employed the Alternating Gradient Synchrotron, Brookhaven's 33-billion electron volt proton accelerator, placing a beryllium target in the path of high energy, 30-billion electron volt protons being accelerated within the synchrotron.

As they strike the target, these protons produce a shower of nuclear debris, including k-2 mesons. The Princeton physicists discovered about 50 occasions when the neutrally charged k-2 meson decayed into a positively and a negatively charged pi-meson, an event theoretically "forbidden" by the "charge conjugation — parity" rule.

Time invariance is involved in this apparent violation because it is so closely linked with the charge conjugation — parity concept that violation of one means violation of the other.

Scientists who pursue research in high energy physics are searching out answers to the ultimate questions of physics: "What is the basic nature of matter?" "What are the most fundamental units of

FALL FASHION PLAN

This is the moment — right now, while you're basking at the beach or playing shadow under a cool green tree. It's your Big Moment to dream about fall, for while summer IS a love, nothing beats the crisp, exciting tingle of a new season, a new school year, a whole new look and feel in the clothes you wear.

Dream it all now — in color, please — and you'll achieve the biggest triumph in any closet: a coordinated wardrobe, where everything works with everything else.

You will find a great collection of fine Fall wear for college . . . all at prices you can afford . . . at Bailey's in the Princeton Shopping Center. You'll be glad you did!

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will make the best running mate for President Johnson?

Where asked: Around town

Bryan Smithley, 173 Cedar Lane, repairman at Second Presbyterian Church: The civil rights question may or may not be the big issue in the campaign, because they have said something about striking it from the campaign. But, even if they do have the civil rights question, I think that Robert Kennedy would make the more stable running mate for Johnson because of his past experience as Attorney General. The personal differences between Johnson and Kennedy will be worked out.

Robert H. Schafer, 173 Loomis Court, roofer (treasurer Cooper & Schafer, Inc.): I assume that Humphrey will be the running mate as vice-president. He's probably the best man for it because of his interest in the rights of civil rights. I think it is a shoe-in for Humphrey.

Tom Reynolds, 123 McCosk Circle, roofer: I don't think Kennedy will be the best one for the reason that the South is going to be a factor in the election. They are not going to be able to carry the South and many communities such as Rochester. I think they should get someone who's more liberal. I'd go for Humphrey.

Larry Morgensthaler, Evelyn Place, chemist: Perhaps someone like Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota or "Scoop" Jackson of Washington. Both have been in the political limelight. Both are good, liberal, progressive and very active. This would tend to strengthen some of the voting in the Northern states. I don't think the party needs to pick an Easterner because Johnson already has the East sewed up, especially now that Goldwater is his opponent. Their tactics would have been different if Rockefeller had been nominated.

Herman Lantz, 222 Western Way, teacher: I think probably Humphrey. He compensates a little bit for the conservatism of Johnson, and would probably be able to attract a good many liberal votes.

Richard Fox, 123 Shady Brook Lane, student: I believe Sergeant Shriver would. I admire him personally. I think he would offer good balance to the ticket. . . he's from the north. . . he's well-known and well respected.

Mrs. Carol Funk, Franklin Township, secretary for Metro Market Surveys, 20 Nassau Street: Bobby Kennedy would be a good one. Maybe I'm prejudiced but I was for Kennedy all the way. I read a lot about Bobby in the newspapers and magazines and he seems to be close enough to his brother that he would be good to have in there.

Charles Searlata, Trenton, Princeton University police force: I think Bobby Kennedy not just because he is the brother of the late President but because I feel he's a good man.

Dick Roberts, 49 Shady Brook Lane, film producer: Bobby Kennedy. I just think Johnson has got to win and Kennedy would make the best vice president if he ever got in, he would appeal to the voter because of his name. Plus, he's a northerner which would help balance the Johnson ticket.

Henry Joshua, 28 Witherspoon Street, research assistant, Princeton University: What happened to President Kennedy points out that the vice-president is a pretty important person. Humphrey has been quite active in civil rights legislation, he's been around for a long time in the Senate. I think he would make a good choice. His liberalism would be in contrast to Johnson who was not known for his liberalism before he became president. Johnson's appeal would be in the South; Humphrey's is in the north so he would balance the ticket. Wagner has been criticized in New York because he postpones taking action until the point is reached when he is forced to attempt a solution. He would not be a good person for the office, in my opinion.

Roger Welsh, 238 Dodds Lane, student at University of Missouri and summer employee at Western Electric: I think possibly the best running mate would be Bobby Kennedy. Johnson has the support he needs in the South and the Mid-West; Kennedy would supply support from the east and northwest areas where Johnson is weaker. I feel this ticket would result in a strong Democratic party.

Ken Harwell, Alabama, professor at Auburn and an aerospace engineer: I lean toward Humphrey because he seems to be a leader in Congress. He's already gotten a lot of things done. He is more of a liberal and would balance the ticket. However, I also admire McNamara for the job he's done in the Defense Department; he knows how to make decisions. It would be hard to choose between Kennedy, McNamara or Humphrey. Any of the three would make a good vice-president. I'm from the South and there is some opposition to Kennedy there but I'm not opposed to him.

Miss Gwen Kelly, Lawrenceville Road, file clerk for Gallup & Robinson: Kennedy. I think he has the qualifications and the experience. Even though he and President Johnson have had disagreements, I think it would work out because he has done so much. Also the location: Kennedy is from the Northwest; Johnson from the Southwest.

Don Wallace, Trenton, shipping clerk for LaVake Jewelers: The way I look at it, it will most likely be an elected democrat, probably Humphrey. Johnson would want one of his own. The people want Bobby and he knows his politics but there is too much conflict between Bobby and President Johnson and Bobby and civil rights. Bobby didn't want Johnson to be vice-president back in 1960. I say it will be between Humphrey and Kennedy.

News Of The THEATRES

THE PLAYHOUSE

Robin and the 7 Hoods (now through Tuesday) is another in the continuing series of spoofs made by that well-known band of middle-aged men formerly known as the "Fat Puck." Sinatra and his cohorts have been responsible for some rather weak pictures since the success of "Ocean's 11," but "Robin and the 7 Hoods" turns out to be surprisingly good.

The legend of Robin Hood is updated to the 1920s with Frankie De Vito, Martin and Sammy Davis Jr. cast as benevolent hoodlums on Chicago's North Side. The boys laugh their way through the film and even throw in a few songs, but the funniest hood is Peter Falk, a rival gangster in the city. The pure and chaste Maid Marian has been sharply downgraded through the centuries, and is now totally without morals or scruples, as played by Barbara Bock.

It's obvious that everybody always had a great deal of fun making these pictures, but this time someone got smart and decided to let the moviegoer in on the fun, too.

THE GARDEN

Mariane now through Tuesday will come as something

WHO'S BEEN RIFLING MY SAFE?: Sean Connery has but one answer as he looks at defenseless Tippi Hedren in this scene from Alfred Hitchcock's, "Marnie," at the Garden through Tuesday.

of a disappointment to those who are ready to jump out of their skins while watching the latest Hitchcock release. Although he has made the picture fairly interesting and mysterious, Mr. Hitchcock has not come up with the razor sharp edge of suspense that has characterized his earlier successes.

Tippi Hedren is cast as a compulsive liar and thief, and just for good measure, she's frigid when it comes to the opposite sex. Enter Sean Connery, looking a bit underdressed without his 25 Beretta, who catches Miss Hedren stealing and decides to indulge in a few of his own neuroses while attempting to cure her.

Mr. Hitchcock appears to have faltered in two important places, his script and style. Together they virtually destroy most of the suspense. "Marnie" is still an arresting film, but looks more like the debut of a new and inexperienced mystery writer than the work of the master of the macabre.

THE PRINCE

A Shot in the Dark (now through Tuesday) has brought back Peter Sellers as the indomitable Inspector Clouseau of "Punk Panther" fame. The inspector is just as inept at solving crime, and even more ridiculous in his attempts. Sellers is supposed to be solving a murder committed in an old mansion in Paris, but he never quite gets around to it. The cops fall one on top of another, with Sellers involved in a hilarious billiard game with Courne Sanders at one point, and spending an after-

IT'S NEW To Us

WHAT'S TO EAT?
 Anything New? By the time summertime has been around for some time, the cook begins to wonder how to keep restless appetites at the table. We suggest a leisurely browse through the wide aisles of the Pennington Quality Market and a trip home with a full market-basket.

At the Thriftway Barbecue pit over there by the meat counter you'll find all you need for a meat barbecue. Pennington suggests chickens, steaks, either pork or lamb chops and, of course, hot dogs. Those smoked boneless pork chops are especially good, and some guests may even want to splash an more smoke in the form of a hickory sauce.

If fish is your fish, turn to Pennington's fish section where you'll find cooked lobster, lobster tails, and some good big lumps of crab meat, all eagerly waiting for a Remoulade sauce. King crab meat and even cherry-stone clams are in Pennington's fish collection.

To accompany whatever you plan a main summer course, Pennington has those Horn and Hardart fresh salads, enough variety for a new one almost every day. The German potato salad with its chicken stock, bacon and ham slices might be interesting for a change from your own home-cooked recipe. And there's a new or health salad for a crisp change.

Kraft makes a good cold dressings by the way. We found it on the big Kraft rack at Pennington, near the hickory-smoked sausage we mentioned a few bites ago, and the other standard Kraft dressings, too. What you really need for the summer? That gallon jar of mayonnaise!

From the pickle bazaar (well, that's what they call it), we chose a barbecue relish that looks hot enough to start a fire of its own, a sweet relish, hot - dog relish (does any one EVER get enough hot dogs?) and one each of sweet pickles, and dills. All being by the way. And a half-pound jar of mustard, hopefully to come out even with all the hot dogs.

Ever try instant "ice-tea"? Pennington suggests iced-tea mix from Lipton, Tetley, Salada or Nestle. The Lipton is mint flavored, and all have been premixed with sugar and lemon. "All you do," as they say in the TV commercials, is add water and ice. Getting back to that barbecue, Pennington has self-starting hardwood charcoal, and charcoal fire lighter if you have the kind that isn't quite self-starting. And a citronella candle for $8c.

ICE, PLEASE

With Something Poured Over. Cousin, the Palmer Square liquor store, is dispensing punch these days. Not cold in a bowl, but hot off the presses in the form of recipes. We'll tell you in a minute.

First, we offer you a chilled glass of Cousin's Foster Langenecker Riesling, 1959. Delicious, isn't it? And only $2.50. Ready for another? This time it's Cousin's Bundesheimer Hausweg Riesling natur, the "natur" referring to its sweetness, which comes naturally from the sun and the juices of the grape, and not from artificial sources. Like the other Riesling, it's $3.50, $2.45. Cousin's Tavel rose Vidal has been imported by Dopff from the vineyards of Alsace vintage '61, price $2.55. And for a truly different flavor try "Charmant" a wine with a fruitier touch than most. It's $9. $1.89.

The cooler that Cousin's recommended to us first is a cranberry wine punch, which is also useful as a wine cooler in a highball glass.

You cook a pound of cranberries in boiling water or take the easy way out and buy cranberry juice. To this, add

Can I Have a Lick?

Something cool on a stick has been known to be every cry heat wave in the weatherman's record. Look in the deep freeze at the Pennington Quality Market and see what "cool" really means. Howard Johnson supplies "ice-cream." Not surprised, are you? We didn't count the flavors, but we did find such unusual ones as caramel fudge, coconut cream, Burgundy cherry, mocha chip, pineapple and a bisque Tortoni.

For 75c you may have four raspberry parfaits (not Johnson) to which you add whipped cream and a cherry on top. There's even a loaf of baked Alaska.

We bought a batch of popsicles to keep in deep freeze: banana, grape, cherry, orange. Who needs the Good Humor man?

Two cups of sugar and a great big bottle of red wine, perhaps a 98c Burgundy. Then toss in one six-ounce can of frozen orange juice concentrate, one-third cup of lemon juice after everything has chilled and a 30-ounce bottle of sparkling water.

A strawberry champagne punch is a fizzy, if you can find the strawberries this time of the year. Frozen will do, of course. And you can always find champagne, whatever the season. Recipe will serve ten friends, it says here. What if they aren't friends? Cousins says you wouldn't give them champagne if they weren't your friends.

Anyway, you begin by sprinkling lemon juice and half a bottle of Rhine wine or Chateau over a quart of berries and —Continued on Page 4

 terpiece, the G minor Quintet, again joined by the guest violinist.

Organized by its first violinist, Felix Galimir, the quartet has toured the United States and Europe on a number of occasions. Other members of the quartet are Marvin Mor-reisen, second violin; Samuel Rhodes, viola; and Pierre Rasseux, cello, currently musician-in-residence at the Marlboro Festival in Vermont.

RUS STOP TO OPEN
 At Bucks County, William Inge's "Bus Stop," starring Johnnie Ray, will open for a week, engagement at the Bucks County Playhouse on Monday. Performances will start at 8:30 evenings, with matinee performances scheduled for Wednesday and Saturday at 2.
 Produced at the Bucks County Playhouse in 1956,
 "Bus Stop" was successful first as a Broadway play, and later as a film starring Don Murray and Marilyn Monroe. The story concerns a young man in the modern west who finds his identity as he is marooned for some hours with a group of people in a roadside restaurant

 during a blizzard.

Mr. Inge, one of America's leading playwrights, is also the author of "Picnic," "Come Back Little Sheba" and the motion picture, "Splendor in the Grass." Johnnie Ray is making his first appearance in a straight play, having appeared on stage in the musical "Guys and Dolls" and in the film, "There's No Business Like Show Business."

AUDITIONS TO BE HELD
 For Bucks County Play
 Auditions for the cast of "Our Town" to be staged by the Bucks County Playhouse will be held on Saturday morning, August 22, at 11. Arthur Godfrey will star in the play, which will begin rehearsals on Monday, August 30, and open on September 7 for two weeks.
 All existing households should send a card to producer Michael Ellis at the Playhouse to set up the audition appointment. This is the tenth and final production of the season.

FAIR LADY CONTINUES
 In Music Circus Run, "My Fair Lady," Broadway's most successful musical, is on view
 at the Lambertville Music Circus with Christine Gillespie and Leslie Redford in the lead roles.

Continuing for four weeks,
 the musical will be performed
 Tuesday through Friday at 8:30, Saturday at 6 and 9:30
 and Sunday at 7:30. Woody Herman will be featured at the Music Circus Monday evening at 8:30 in the weekly jazz series.

It's New To Us
 allowing the berries to mar-inate in the refrigerator for three hours. (A Tyrolean Riesling for $1.19 is good for this punch.)

Before serving, put a big clunk of ice into the punch bowl you have rented from Cousins, and the rest of the Tyrolean festivity, one bottle of champagne and a pint of sparkling water. Put a strawberry in each cup, pour, and stand well back.

The children, in the next room, are drinking champagne poured over orange sherbet.
 Were with the champagne.

Incidentally, Cousins, like people who drop into the air-conditioned store just to browse. Like a book shop.

WANT TO "ANTIQU"
 Try the Black Kettle. Take the road to Hopewell, and time you explore an antique shop, and stop on Broad Street at the Sign of the Black Kettle.
 (Customers have tried to buy the black kettle, you know,
 but it isn't for sale.)

Bus and trips into the vastness of the New England antique market have produced some delights for Black Kettle shoppers. Hanging lamps with brass frames, pressed glass bowls, and splendid brass and copper pieces for autumn flower arrangements are sure to attract your eye.

From the Civil War era, the Black Kettle has sturdy six-inch brass candlesticks, and a fine pair of matched sticks about 10 inches tall, simply executed with a round base.

 Mrs. Moore, who presides over Black Kettle, is proud of a corner cupboard from the early 19th-century, tawny, smooth and simple, made in two pieces — top and bottom.
 Seven of the nine panes in the top glass doors are the original wavy glass.

We think that Black Kettle's most impressive household accessory is a round wooden bowl 21 inches across. It's wide and deep enough to hold one and one-half peach baskets of apples, Mrs. Moore tells us, and it's rich enough in sheen to display without anything in it at all.

For autumn and winter fires,
 you'll want to consider late 18th-century andirons in black iron, wrought simply with just a knob at the curving
 top. There's a coal grate here, too.

Lamp collectors will inspect the Royal Lamps, which have been removed to reveal the shining brass underneath. Reproduction shades are clear diamond beaded glass, blue, amber or white, and Black Kettle
 even has a few of the genuine old shades.

Budget-governed households
 may be interested to learn that Black Kettle has fare in the rough for you to finish
 with hard labor and affection, chairs from $3, jelly closets,
 tables, and whatever pieces happen to be in the shop at the moment.

And did you know? The Black Kettle has dozens of black kettles. Black iron pots, they are. Even a black iron tea-kettle.

 Ray will star in William Inge's

BOY IS REVIVED
By Rescue Squad. The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad revived an unconscious two-year old boy Monday while enroute to Princeton Hospital.

The boy, Stefan Kalman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sandor Kalman, 4 Academy Street, Kingston, was held for observation. A nurse said he had been suffering from high temperatures and convulsions.

A neighbor called the First Aid Squad to the boy's home believing he was dead. Squad members Vincent Ross, Arthur Stoller and Louis Tammar worked over the boy on the way to the hospital to revive him.

WHAT'S THE STORY?
A New Out Every Day. A swing is a swing and basketball is a great game, but when story-telling time comes to the Princeton playground, the boys and girls leave their seats and gather in the shade to hear what the story-telling lady has brought this week from the public library.

From its beginning in 1956, the library's story-telling program has grown to include 11 different playground areas and a time span of nine weeks. This means 99 separate story-telling hours during the summer playground period.

More than two dozen Princeton women serve as story-tellers following a schedule drawn up by Miss Patricia Kirchheiser, children's librarian for the Princeton Public Library. Dr. Donald Eerooy, of the Temple University speech and hearing workshop leader and general advisor.

Most of the women who take story-books to the children have done so before, in other summers. Newcomer volunteers are usually friends and neighbors of these old-timers, women who caught the enthusiasm and want to be part of the program, too.

Volunteers train in the workshops set up by Dr. Eerooy. These are designed, not only for the playground story-tellers but for day camp counselors, vacation Bible school leaders or just mothers who want to improve story-telling technique.

The public library has had four of these workshops, attended by eighty-seven men and women. Plans for next year may include a creative dramatists workshop, in which story-tellers would learn how to act out stories with boys and girls as members of the cast.

NEW DIAL METHOD SET
For Use By Rescue Squad. The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has obtained the newest and fastest telephone equipment for the use of its ambulance dispatcher. Mrs. Elizabeth Ross of 12 Pelham Street.

In order to summon a squad member, Mrs. Ross will use the new touch-tone card-dial telephone. She has only to insert the member's card in a slot and push a button. The card is ejected from the slot and the number is dialed in less than three seconds with no chance of error.

According to telephone company records, this is the first instrument of its kind to be installed in the Princeton area. The other three extensions in Mrs. Ross' home have been converted to the regular Touch-tone instruments. The number is 924-0496.

Among the first calls made by Mrs. Ross on the new telephone were messages delivered to Mayor Patterson of Princeton Borough, Mayor Wilson of Princeton Township and Mayor Roszel of West Windsor. On behalf of Dewitt Boice of 20 Adams Drive, President of the First Aid unit, she told each of the mayors of the new installation, adding, "I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the trust you have placed in us and to pledge ourselves to the continuation of a service which is worthy of that trust."

The First Aid Squad has announced that it will begin its annual fund drive on September 8, and that the campaign will be by mail only. It reiterated its policy of not making door-to-door solicitation.

TWO ARE FINED
In Borough Court. Two residents of the Princeton area were fined by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Jams on Monday.

Isabel M. Harvey, 34, of Providence Line Road, Skillman, was fined $15 for careless driving. Peter Solotovsky, 18, Heather Lane, paid $12 for failing to stop at a flashing red light.

MINOR ACCIDENT OCCURS
Cyclist Slightly Injured. Allen C. Giese, 23, of 583 Lake Drive was slightly injured Monday when he hit the right rear fender of a car driven by Keith D. Snell of 73 Kendall Road, Kendall Park.

Mr. Giese was thrown from his bicycle by the impact. He complained of pains in his back, and was treated at Princeton Hospital and released. Mr. Snell was making a left turn from Stockton Street into Elm Road at the time.

FIRST CALL: Dean of the Faculty J. Douglas Brown makes first call under the University's new Center System, which went into operation Friday. With him are Ricardo A. Medres (center), the University's financial vice-president and treasurer, and Dr. John H. Wallace, Administrative Director of Forestal Research Center, who played key roles in arranging and coordinating the system's installation. Housed in New Jersey Bell Telephone's new office at Penns Neck, Center permits direct dialing without going through the University switchboard. The new number is 452-3000, with individual telephone, reached by dialing 452 and the proper four-digit extension number.

TO SMOOTH TRAFFIC
At Mercerville-White Horse. The five-corner intersection of Mercerville where White Horse Road, Nottingham Way and Edinburgh Road converge, will have a new traffic signal system within the next three months.

Highway officials also announced this week that roadway improvements would be made at the intersection to smooth out the traffic even more. The project, scheduled for completion in 30 working days, will be paid for by the Federal Government, Mercer County and Hamilton Township.

At present, there is one lane of traffic on Mercerville-White Horse Road for about 1,100 feet from Route 33 to Nottingham Way. The new roadway will carry two lanes of traffic each way, and will be 40 feet wide between the concrete curbs.

ART EXHIBIT OPENS
At Gallery 100. The work of four Princeton area artists is on view at Gallery 100, 100 Nassau Street, until August 17.

The show includes textile hangings by Gino Cecchini, art teacher at the Riverside School; collages by Edna Lau-Chen, former student of Don Kimzman, and paintings by Marie Stuken and Valdi Marie. Mrs. Stuken now is a one-man show on tour of colleges and museums across the country. Mrs. Stuken was a prizewinner at the New Jersey State Painters and Sculptors Show.

WHAT'S THAT BIRD?
Audubon Field Trips. J. Stanley Quickmire, naturalist and authority on birds, will lead field trips next Tuesday and Wednesday in the National Audubon Society's Stony Ford Sanctuary on Pretty Brook Road.

Mr. Quickmire, director of the Sharon Audubon Center in Sharon, Conn., is coming to Princeton as part of Stony Ford's series of educational programs planned for residents of the Princeton area.

The first tour will begin at 2 p.m. Tuesday and the second at 4 p.m. On Wednesday, tours have been scheduled for 8:30 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Reservations should be made through the Stony Ford Headquarters, 466-2421.

WASHINGTON WAS HERE.
"Y" Plans Historical Tour. The "Washington Crossing Road to Victory," an eight-mile scenic drive will be traveled next Thursday by boys who sign up with Princeton YMCA.

The tour has been planned for boys in grades three through eight, by Greater Trenton Historic Tours.

The tour will cover Washington Crossing State Park, the models and dioramas in History Barn, the famous painting of Washington crossing the Delaware in the Memorial building at the park, the David Library, the McKimley Ferry House and the graveyard of the First Presbyterian Church. Boys will also retrace General Washington's route from the Delaware River to the battle monument in Trenton.

Cost of the tour is $2, and starting time is 1 p.m., from Princeton "Y". Boys will return at 5 p.m. Reservations must be made by 5 p.m. next Tuesday. The "Y" needs participation from Princeton to Trenton, where the tour will begin.

CONFERENCE PLANNED
By FBI and Law Officers. The annual FBI Law Enforcement Conference will hold one of its meetings in Princeton next Wednesday in the lecture hall of Princeton University's Friek Laboratory. The meetings, which take place for three consecutive days in a different community each day, are being held in the form of panel discussions to insure closer cooperation between New Jersey police officials at all levels and the FBI.

lanes each. After the Lincoln Tunnel Interchange, the number of lanes would be three and two. A similar pair of roadways would be provided for southbound traffic.

The roadways would be separated from each other by a median to prevent traffic from changing roadways at will, and on each ramp would be provided for each set of lanes to eliminate the need for a vehicle in the farthest inside lane to weave across five lanes of traffic. One of the ha-nic ideas is to provide separate but equal roadways for passenger cars and commercial traffic.

The Authority is also considering the construction of a new interchange to be located near Jamesburg, midway between the New Brunswick and Hightstown interchanges. The location of the new interchange will be determined by the alignment of feeder roads to be built by the State Highway Department.

HOW MUCH FOR LAND

Authority Ponders Price.

What is a fair price for the 2.5 acres of land which the Princeton Housing Authority ant to take. Total approved funds for the entire project are approximately $297,000.

ly? That's the question which Thomas P. Cook, lawyer for the PHA, and William C. Baggett, attorney for landowner Charles LaPlaca, are currently discussing.

Both lawyers anticipate several weeks of negotiating before they reach a satisfactory bargaining price on Mr. LaPlaca's North Harrison Street property. But both are also reportedly optimistic about chances for an agreement rather than a continuing heated struggle through a second summer.

"We're somewhat more to the good than we were a year ago," said Mr. Cook this week. He referred in particular to the approval of the project received last week from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Administration in Washington.

This approval makes it possible for Mr. Cook to offer a price for the land for the proposed 30-unit project. He added that he plans to meet with a Federal representative as soon as possible to discuss the housing facility.

Mr. Baggett, meanwhile, said that he was hopeful that his client would receive a fair price for the land, which has been variously appraised between $92,000 and $94,000. In the event that Mr. LaPlaca refuses to sell to the PHA, the authority has the alternative of condemnation of the property, a step which it is hesitant to take.

In another action involving the same area, Mr. LaPlaca has the PHA, and William C. Baggett filed suit against Princeton Mayor council, zoning officer and building inspector, because they turned down his request for a variance to build a 40-unit apartment project on the adjoining lot.

The request had previously been approved by the Borough Housing Authority for its project. It took this action on the grounds that, since only other people would be housed there, noise and added traffic congestion would not result as they might in the case of a private apartment development.

"DATA FOR 10 YEARS"

Schools' Study Progress.

"There's enough data available for about 10 years of study," Mrs. Marion Epstein commented after evaluating research into the Borough and Township school systems.

A member of the six-man subcommittee which will report this fall to the respective school boards, Mrs. Epstein told the Township board that some progress has been made. The data is currently being key-punched into cards at Educational Testing Service.

A division of responsibilities among committee members has resulted from a series of meetings between Mrs. Epstein, George Grace, President Robert Pearson, all of the Township board, Robert Lively and John Buckland of the Borough Board.

"Mr. Lively will put his major energy into study of the profiles of the student bodies of the two districts. Mr. Grace and William Evans of the Borough will work on the financial data, and I am to submit a study of what the merged system might look like. The job of this committee is to come up with a preliminary draft."

The committee members report to their respective boards, who in turn will report on the joint study to Robert V. Dilley, chairman of the Joint Committee on Municipal Operations.

Person To Person

Cory S. Kammiller

Talking about how one thing leads to another an acquaintance told this story: A fellow, well past thirty, who had not really gotten anywhere in life, one day decided he was fed up with the traffic at race he got into every morning driving to work. But instead of throwing in the sponge he decided to get up a half hour earlier to drive when traffic was much lighter. Getting to work earlier, with more than a half hour to kill, he started spending the time reading. When the business day was alert and so well informed fellow employees would refer their questions to him. Nobody could get over the change that had come over him, especially the boss. From then on his advancements came rapidly. Where is he today? He's half owner of a prosperous business. Yes, you never know what chain of reactions one action will lead to, like the falling row of dominoes. But good actions usually lead to good things, and we know that if we do well for you, we do well for ourselves too in the long run. It's as simple as that, and the benefit to you is incalculable. May we serve you, please? Kammiller Buick • Pontiac Co., Route 206, opposite Princeton Airport, 921-2222.

"CORE" TO RALLY

In Freedom Assembly, Stephen Schwermer, brother of Mickey Schwermer, one of the three civil rights workers whose bodies were reportedly found in Mississippi, and two young "freedom workers" from Mississippi, will speak at an assembly sponsored by the Mercer County Chapter of CORE this Saturday at 8 in the Covenant Presbyterian Church, Parkway Avenue and Parkside Avenue, in Trenton.

The "Mississippi Freedom Assembly" is open to the public without charge. It is being presented by CORE in cooperation with other organizations from various churches in the area.

TO EXPLORE SPACE

With RCA Camera. The astro-electronics division of the Radio Corporation of America in Princeton is developing a television camera that may help scientists detect shockwaves which produce sudden magnetic storms.

The camera is being built for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Its purpose is to detect gaseous clouds with a luminosity that is less than one millionth of the brightness of a normally lighted room.

The clouds are believed to be indicators that magnetic storms or other cosmic ray disturbances will soon strike the earth. The theory and the experiment, known as Project TIGRIS, were developed by Dr. Thomas Gold, chairman of the Cornell University astronomy department. TIGRIS stands for Telesized Image of Gaseous Regions in Interplanetary Space.

Max Berry, the project manager of the ultra-sensitive television camera, said the camera has been designed to operate on the same standards as the TIROS weather satellite system. The camera is equipped with a viewing angle of 80 degrees and can be programmed to provide exposure times of two to 10 seconds.

the postman brings an insurance company check that takes care of family living expenses
during the months (or years)
while the wage earner is disabled by a serious accident, an operation, or a long illness.
May we give you full informa-

torney for the residents, agreed to th postponement.
Mr. Lerner stated that the hearing was adjourned at their request to permit them time to negotiate a settlement of the matter before the meeting in September.

ON THE SHADY SIDE
Of Princeton Streets. Nearly a dozen stately elm trees in Princeton have had rows at bottles attached to them this summer possibly giving the impression that they are being tapped for maple syrup by an unknowing manufacturer.

In fact the trees have been receiving "transfusions" and if their appearance has been untidy, the long-range effect will be hopefully to preserve the beauty of much of Princeton's greenery. The trees were fed a serum known only as Number 64-136 in an attempt to kill the fungus that causes Dutch elm disease.

Unfortunately, the 10 trees which have been treated represent only a fraction of one percent of those which are dead. Another 50 trees on the Princeton campus are being treated under University supervision. Furthermore, the treatment itself is only experimental and favorable results are not guaranteed.

The group largely responsible for the efforts to preserve Princeton's trees is the Princeton-Nassau-Silva Tree Commission. The six-member commission was formed at the end of May as a result of a Borough ordinance and its officers are:

TREE TRANSFUSION: A new method for fighting Dutch Elm disease by chemical injection has made a number of Princeton's many elm look like slightly mixed-up sugar maples this summer. The experimental shot-in-the-trunk method promises to allow the effects of the fast-spreading disease.

Edward W. Morehouse, chairman, and Mrs. Donald C. Stuart Jr., vice-chairman.

The other members are Richard W. Colman, coach of Princeton's football team, Mrs. Bruce H. French and Robert W. van de Velde. Bernard Glover of the Borough Engineering department said he said, noting that it takes about 40 years for the trees to mature.

Something Intangible Mr. Glover expressed the fear that Dutch elm disease may be too widespread for the serum to check its progress. "The serum is strictly experimental," he said. "But it's definitely worth the effort. The beauty of these trees is an intangible thing you can't put a price tag on."

Of the future, Mrs. French said, "The commission has discussed having a series of articles published locally in the fall. I particularly want to tell people about the elm trees because I think some can be saved. But the majority are on private property—that's our biggest problem along with the need for more funds."

There are many trees surrounding the French home on 10 Cleveland Lane. But, said Mrs. French, there are no elms left. "I wouldn't advise planting elms at this time," she said, "because the disease is so widespread."

The Guardian Tree Corporation, represented by E.B. Zarsky of Summit, has been in charge of administering the serum to area elms. The application is available to private citizens, but it cannot be done again until next spring.

WEAR AN OLD COSTUME
To Hopewell Tercentenary. Dr. Donald McCoy, general chairman of the Hopewell Tercentenary Celebration to be held September 19, hopes that many residents of the town will attend the celebration in a costume of any period during the past 300 years.

Costumes and pictures are on display at the Hopewell Museum on East Broad Street, Hopewell. Many periods are represented in the span of time since New Jersey was settled and the costume committee of the celebration will gladly supply ideas.

Mrs. Edward Lewis, curator of the Museum, or any other member of the committee may be contacted. The committee includes Mrs. W. H. Baxter, Irwin Wood, Mrs. Mary Murphy, Mrs. Donald McCoy and Miss Helen Titus.

Facts You Should Know About Oriental Rugs

SYMBOLS IN ORIENTAL RUG MOTIFS

- On the borders and border guards of Oriental rugs and carpets there are woven many different varieties of gourds, fungus, clouds, waves, zig zags, fret designs, swastikas, different shapes of crosses, broken and unbroken lines and myriad forms. These emblems incorporate the weaver's good wishes. Through these figures and emblems, whether rectangular, circular or oval, they convey a message of good fortune.

As Mrs. French explained, it costs about $15 or $20 to administer the serum treatment to most mature elms. On the other hand, it can run into hundreds of dollars to have a tree removed when it dies.

As the situation stands now, the Shade Tree Commission is faced with the fact that many trees are beyond the point where they can be saved. The Borough budget must first be concerned with the removal of trees," Mrs. French said. "It doesn't leave us a great deal for the serum treatment."

Mr. Glover of the engineer's office said that some 35 trees have been removed in the past year with an average size tree costing between $100 and $150 to take completely out of the ground. Consequently, Mr. Glover said, the Borough must be concerned with replanting new trees.

"The best policy is the planting program," she said. "We're going to be out of luck if we

GOING BACK in Town Topics

FIVE YEARS AGO
August 6, 1958. Back from a trip to Russia were Governor and Mrs. Meyner, who had toured the U.S.S.R. in company with a number of other state chief executives and their wives. Mrs. Meyner reported that Premier Khrushchev had reacted with both pleasure and surprise when she thanked him in Russian at the end of the meeting. "So you speak Russian?" he answered (in English).

Mrs. Meyner also found one effective way of getting rid of the inevitable Russian security agent who kept following her. "I stopped to buy an ice cream cone," she said. "Then I turned around suddenly and gave it to him." The surprised agent thanked her—and disappeared.

Master Sgt. James F. Murphy, of 17 Pelham Street, had hit on a good plan for saving part of his pay. In his frequent assignments to various countries he had started buying stamps. His collection, based up over a number of years, was estimated to be worth from $7,500 to $10,000 in 1958—a sizeable nest-egg (unperforated and uncanceled) for his retirement in 1962.

The Hun School in August '59 had just named three trustees—all of them Princeton alumni—to its board. The three Dr. Gregg Dougherty, Professor J. Merrill Knapp and Attorney Ralph S. Mason. Re-elected chairman of the board was John P. Poe, longtime president of Princeton's First National Bank.

The boom in folk music during the past five years was indicated by a brief item in 1959—the announcement that

Be Sure You Are Eligible to Vote in November

With the fever of a presidential election soon upon us, residents have until September 24 to check upon their eligibility to vote.

You are eligible if you are over 21, a United States citizen, a New Jersey resident for at least six months and a Mercer County resident for at least 40 days before election day.

Your registration remains in effect unless you change your residence, fail to vote for four consecutive years, change your name by marriage, divorce or court decree, or have become disqualified.

Voters' registration and changes are handled by the County Clerk (Court House in Trenton), Borough or Township Clerk. The offices are open from 9 until 4, Monday through Friday.

A New Residents' Presidential Ballot is available to those who have lived in the county for at least 40 days before the election.

If you move away—either to another county or out of the state—you can get an "Absentee Presidential Ballot at your former address here in Mercer County, N.J., and meet the residency requirements at your new address.

All of the above requirements have a 40-day before election deadline. However, if you find that you will be out of the state for any purpose on election day, you may vote via Absentee Ballot, providing your request for the ballot is received by the County Clerk's Office a minimum of eight days before election.

A folk singer, Karen Drake, like the Sahara or the upper reaches of the Amazon. In 1954, it was dry and hot, with rainfall up to August 1 about nine inches below normal. Someone remarked then and the observation still holds: "Whoever it was who called this the 'Temperate Zone' must have been intemperate in the extreme."

See-how-we-grow dent: In 1954, Princeton Hospital's June Fete had cleared about $9,000, according to a story in an early August TOWN TOPICS.

Ten years later, the 1964 Fete took in a gross of over $60,000—and a net more than four times as great as in 1954.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
August 4, 1949. After many years in Princeton, the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research had announced that it was wrapping up its guinea pigs and test tubes for a new home in New York. Probable new occupant of the R.I.M.R. property on Route 1 was rumored to be the army's Chemical Warfare Service. As it turned out, the army didn't buy—and the University's Forestral Research Center took over the area.

The death in August 1949 of Joe Siple, for 40 years the proprietor of a restaurant and informal check-cashing service) here recalled the time, probably the only time, he turned down an undergraduate check-writer. Said Joe: "I've had a lot of checks handed to me in my time, even one signed 'Julius Caesar.' But I drew the line at taking one signed John D. Rockefeller III."

The slightly surprised freshman, a member of the Class of 1929, actually was the grandson of the original John D.

Police in a nearby community had received a frantic alert that a shotgun murder had just been committed. They investigated and found: one Andrew Rubsam, permit in pocket, calmly and quite legally potting pesky starlings.

PEOPLE In the News

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Wilson of 217-A Marshall Street have chosen to sponsor a 14-year old Hong Kong boy, whose father, a coolie, cannot make enough money to feed and educate his children.

Through the Christian Children's Fund in Richmond, Virginia, the Wilsons have "adopted" Heng Hing, a quiet but determined boy, who attends Perfect Virtue School in Kowloon. He is especially fond of arithmetic and music.

Mr. Wilson, who has traveled in the Far East with his wife, is a Phi Delta candidate in politics and oriental studies at the Graduate School here. The Wilsons have two children of their own, a boy and girl. In adopting Heng Hing, they will send $10 a month toward the boy's care.

The Christian Children's Fund assists 47,500 children, and reports a long waiting list of orphanages requesting help. The orphanages in turn have long waiting lists of children needing assistance. Seventy per cent of all requests for help are rejected because sponsors are not available.

Miss Mary Benson has been named to the Dean's List at New York University's Washington Square College of Arts and Sciences. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Benson, 262 Moore Street.

Army PFC David M. Smith, son of Thomas Smith of 23 Clay Street, was presented with a plaque for helping to maintain the best mess facilities in Headquarters, Taegu Subarea Command in Korea. A graduate of Princeton High School, PFC Smith entered the Army in April 1963 and arrived overseas in February 1964.

Linda A. Tamaski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Tamaski of 6 Southern Way, has been awarded the Princeton Township Parent/Teacher Association Scholarship of $625. A graduate of Princeton High School, Miss Tamaski will enter Upsala College in East Orange this Fall.

Dr. William G. Bowen of 10 MacLean Circle, associate professor of economics and director of graduate studies at the University of Wisconsin, has been selected for inclusion in the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America," published by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Bowen graduated from Denison University in 1933 and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Earning his master's degree in economics from Princeton in 1938, he then joined the Princeton faculty and was named to his current position this year.

Robert J. Weber, a graduate of Central High School, Hopewell Township, is a summer employee at RCA Laboratories. The highest-ranking Mercer County student in the 15th annual High School mathematics contest, he is a member of the national honorary society and recipient of a National Science Foundation scholarship. He will enter Princeton University next month, with a Ph.D. in mathematics as his eventual goal.

S-C Marine First Lieutenant Frank L. Broth, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Broth of 292 Western Way, is a crewmember of the guided missile cruiser, USS Galves-

Marilynne M. Buckland will attend Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill., in the fall. A graduate of Princeton High School, Miss Buckland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Buckland of 36 Stanley Avenue.

Dr. Edward D. Moorhead of 15 Markham Road, assistant professor of chemistry at Rutgers University, has been awarded $6,000 by the Research Corporation in New York City to continue his research in electrochemistry. He will use the grant-aid for his work on the use of alternating current methods in studies of the mechanism and kinetics of electrochemical reactions.

A 1954 graduate of Ohio State University, Dr. Moorhead received his Ph.D. from Ohio State in 1959 and did post-doctoral work at Princeton before joining the Harvard faculty in 1960. He was appointed an assistant professor in the Rutgers School of Chemistry in 1963.

Three Princeton residents have been awarded summer fellowships by the University of Rochester for research and study. A. Merriell Baring-Gould, 84 Wheatstreak Lane, will study in the department of psychiatry at Rochester; Roger Nicoll, 247 Western Way, will study in the department of pharmacology at Rochester; and Gilbert R. Rowan, 647 Rosedale Road, will study in the department of urology at New York Hospital.

Miss Joyce M. Assenheimer, 21 Edwards Place, has been named to the Dean's List at Glassboro State College, Glassboro. —Continued on Page 19

RCA ASTRO CELEBRATES
Over Ranger 7's Moon Trip
A message from space more than 240,000 miles away from the earth was the cause for unrestrained jubilation Friday morning at the RCA Astro-Electronics Division plant near Princeton.

It was exactly 9:10 a.m. when word was relayed from

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL: Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, RCA President, paid tribute Friday to scientists at Astro-Electronics Division when Ranger 7 completed its highly successful journey to the moon.

Goldstone Calif., site of the blast-off for Ranger 7, that excellent pictures were being received from the spacecraft as it neared the moon. At that point, it was some 242,000 miles from the planet earth.

In anticipation of the climax of the missile's trip, a crowd had gathered early Friday morning at the Astro-Electronics plant on the Princeton-Burlington Road. Six previous Ranger shots had been attempted without success, but number seven had had a perfect launch and its virtual "dead-eye" course was buoyed hopes that the mission would achieve its goal.

Some 150 engineers and technicians jammed the Ranger 7 Project Office, waiting anxiously for definite word. At 9:07, Bernard P. Miller, manager of the Ranger Project (see "Man of the Week"), told the RCA personnel by telephone from California, that the camera was warning up. Cheers followed.

Roar of Jubilation: At 9:08, Mr. Miller reported that full video power had been received and the group broke into a roar of jubilation. The cheers reached their crescendo at 9:10 when he announced that excellent pictures were being received.

In the space of 16 minutes and 40 seconds, the television cameras aboard the spacecraft transmitted 4,316 pictures of great clarity back to earth. The last — made about 1,000 feet from the moon's surface — was relayed a split second before located on Route 206. The Princeton architectural firm of Fulmer & Bowers will design the building which will provide greatly increased municipal facilities.

Ranger 7 crashed into the Sea of Clouds.

Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, RCA President whose home is at 181 Library Place, clutched a table and told the jubilant scientists: "I want to add one word of congratulations to all who were participants in this program. After all the trials and tribulations that we have gone through in the Ranger program, this is a wonderful result. It is a milestone that will long be remembered in history."

FULMER & BOWERS NAMED
To Design New Hall. The Princeton architectural firm of Fulmer & Bowers has been selected to design the new Montgomery Township Hall to be located on Route 206 just north of Harlingen.

The architects state that the building will have a pitched roof, colonial red brick walls with white trim, in a "split level" design to make the best use of the sloping site. Containing 6,000 square feet of space, the building will have offices for the township clerk, building and zoning staff, tax collector, assessor, as well as magistrate's chambers and council room. The public meeting room will be on the basement level, with a special meeting hall to be added later.

Greatly increased residential building, as well as an influx of commercial and industrial firms, have made Montgomery's current municipal headquarters inadequate. Part-time officials who have worked from their homes are now needed on a full-time basis, and the township must provide them with complete office facilities.

BRANCH BANK TO OPEN

Monday in Plainsboro. The newly-completed Plainsboro Branch of the First National Bank of Cranbury will open for business Monday morning at 9.

Located on a three-acre tract at the intersection of Princeton and Schalk's Crossroads, it will provide a full range of banking services for business firms, and residents of Plainsboro and adjacent areas. Completion of the branch has come during the Cranbury bank's 60th year.

The new branch will include a drive-up window, safe deposit vaults, five tellers' spaces and coupon booths. The red-brick structure, fully air-conditioned, is Colonial in design set off with white trim.

An electric clock, visible from considerable distance, is set in a cupola mounted on the central portion of the slate roof. A top the cupola is a weather vane.

Growth Cited. Isaiah D. Barclay, president of the Cranbury bank, reported that last year its assets increased by more than $1 million, reaching a year-end

THREE OF FOUR HAVE GRADUATED: Only Captain Cosmo Iacavazzi (32) of this quartet of Princeton backs will be on hand when Princeton's football squad reports to its Blairstown training camp next month. Others, from the left, are Jim Ruckelbach, Dick Spines and Pete Porietis.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK - I

(This is the first of a series of four articles on Princeton's football prospects for 1964.)
Baker's Dozen Are Missing. It is less than a month before Princeton's football force will assemble here to depart for their Blairstown training camp to prepare for the 1964 season and defense of the Ivy title, which they share with Dartmouth.

A major rebuilding problem faces Coach Dick Colman and his associates: of the 13 letterman no longer available, eight were starting members of the 1963 team which won seven and lost two while climbing to first place tie with the Iowan Indians. In this and three succeeding reports on prospects for 1964, TOWN TOPICS will seek to evaluate the importance of the losses; estimate the potential of the sophomore crop; list a possible starting lineup for the Rutgers game on September 26; and review the anticipated ability of the Tigers opponents. This is the 11th year in which such a summer-time review has been presented.

From the team which was beaten by Dartmouth, 22-21 in the game postponed a week by President Kennedy's death, Princeton has lost eight players who were on the field for the opening kickoff and five others who saw lesser amounts of action. Of the 13, 11 graduated and two (guard Ron Bonomo and end Bill Robinson) have departed for disciplinary reasons.

Hardest hit positions in the line are left end and both guard slots, where the two starters are gone. Three of the four backs who were regulars have graduated, necessitating a rebuilding job around Captain Cosmo Iacavazzi.

By positions, this is the report on the departures:
Ends: Longside (left) end was virtually a complete graduation casualty. Big Bill Howard, the 6-4 basketball captain, was a member of the Class of 1964 and his all-around experience, particularly on offense, will take considerable replacing. Behind him were Bob Keyes, a rugged 190-pounder who was used primarily on defense, and John Clarkson, a two-year letterman. Also missing will be his letter as a sophomore in 1962 but has had his college career cut short as the result of disciplinary action last spring.

Tackles: The only major loss here is Captain Bill Guedel, an All-Ivy selection who was the team's top lineman last season. Cited by Colman as "extremely active and aggressive," Guedel's loss after only two years of eligibility is a big one.

Ed Costello likewise completed his career as a tackle. A real standout in his first two seasons, he saw very little action last fall when he missed the first six games because of an injury.

Guards: Ron Bonomo and Al Svenson, both highly capable, rugged interior linemen, are out of the picture for 1964. Strong and mobile at 205; Svenson handled the tough job of linebacking to win his letter as a sophomore, came on to earn a starter's status at right guard in his senior year.

Bonomo had likewise been a sophomore letterman, progressed so rapidly as a junior that he was a season-long starter at left guard, where he was particularly noticeable on defense. His premature departure for disciplinary reasons complicates the rebuilding task.

Center: The light loss of one man here may serve to strengthen the position, which

Tigers Will Ramble

For the first time in 20 years, Princeton will play only five football games at home and will finish its season with an opponent other than Dartmouth.

One gap in Palmer Stadium appearances for the Tigers is almost unprecedented: from the afternoon of Saturday, October 3, when they play Columbia, until, Saturday, November 7, when Harvard, comes here, they will be home only once. That will be for the Colgate game on October 17.

Cornell replaces Dartmouth as Princeton's final opponent this year, with the Tigers going to Hanover on October 10 for the first time in history. Road trips are also scheduled to Philadelphia, Providence and New Haven.

has been a trouble spot for Princeton most of the time since Frank Sventetz graduated in 1960. Bill Crano, used primarily on offense, was the one senior on last year's squad and belief is that the position will be more strongly manned in 1964 than at any time in the past five seasons.

Wingback: Only one man is gone here, too, but the loss

Twenty-five years ago one-fourth of the population were rural dwellers. The 1960 census shows that less than 10 per cent of today's citizens are farmers . . . The distinguished people in the U. S. are in Beverly Hills. That city has 32 phones per 100 people. The Capitol is next with 88 and San Francisco comes next with 71 . . . If the present rate of increase continues the world population will double to close to 5½ billion by the end of the century. And you think parking is bad now! . . .

Increasing population and other congestive factors make it all the more imperative that you have proper insurance coverages. Don't guess . . . never take chances . . . either you have the right coverages or you don't. Let an agent from STURAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD, 15 Chambers Street, guide you and set up the proper policies. Phone 921-6880. "Always Remember Fair Claim Settlement is Our Most Important Product."

play a solid blocking back and, by the time his senior year began, an experienced field general, picked up his diploma in June. His choice of plays was generally sound and he was the Tigers' general offense that averaged better than 100 yards more than each opponent and outscored them by a 3-to-1 ratio. Springs' considerable experience will be difficult to replace.

Tailbacks: Two three-year lettermen, Hugh MacMillan and Pete Forcels, are the losses here, at the vital position which determines more than any other whether there are wheels under the Tiger. MacMillan showed tremendous improvement in his senior year, ranking as the team's leading groundgainer with a total of 750 yards and a fine 5.9 average in rushing.

Forcels was injured during a large part of 1963, running and passing for a total of only 23 times during the year. He had been listed as the ranking tailback when the season began, and had shown steady ability during both of his first two years on the varsity, particularly in the two games against Yale. Dartmouth, Harvard, and Yale figure to be the chief contenders with Princeton for Ivy League honors, all lost as many or more lettermen than the Tigers but the latter nonetheless have a major task to recreate a team able to win seven out of nine, as last year's Orange and Black entry did. The greatest lack of experience will be in the backfield — at quarterback and wingback, although the 1964 rules changes which permit virtually unlimited substitutions should make it easier to train replacements by bringing them along quickly on either offense or defense rather than as complete two-way players.

Next Week: The Sophomores.

SEATS STILL AVAILABLE
For Jaycee Classic, Palmer Stadium, the site of the Jaycee Football Classic between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles, is not sold out yet, but Jaycees throughout the state report that it is rapidly filling up. Seats are still available through the Classic Office, P. O. Box 324, Princeton at $5.50 and $3.50, with a 50¢ charge for handling. All $7.50 tickets have been sold. Tickets are also on sale at the University Store and Princeton Stationers.

The Jaycee pull for charity from this year's Classic is $155,000. Last year more than $154,000 was given to 215 charities throughout the state. The biggest percentage of proceeds went to community charities, while $44,000 was given in large gifts to eight welfare groups.

Jaycees earn a commission for their favorite charities on every Classic ticket they sell. Our hundred and sixty Jaycee chapters will have a total of 1300 men working at the game, which is expected to draw a capacity crowd of 45,000.

ETS BEATS ACCELERATOR

In League's Only Game. Educational Testing nipped Accelerator, 2-1, in the only game played last week in the Business Softball League. One contest was postponed and two were forfeited as two teams were dropped from the league for failing to play two games in a row.

In one of the best-played games of the season, Jack Dillworth outpitched Jack Barlow to give ETS the win. Dave Friedelborn scored one run and batted in the other for ETS.

Accelerator had a chance to tie up the game in the last inning with a man on third and one out, but a perfect throw by Bill Debosky sailed the Accelerator runner at the plate as he attempted to score on a sacrifice fly. Joe McFadden and Bucky Sanford put together a couple of hits to score the lone run for Accelerator.

EMR and Princeton Hospital have been unable to field enough men and under the league rules were required to withdraw from the league. The RCA - American Cyanamid game was postponed and will be played this Thursday. All other league action was concluded this past Tuesday, and playoffs between the top four teams will begin next week.

YMCA ALL-STARS WIN

Defeat Lambertville Team, the all-star team from the YMCA Junior Baseball League defeated an all-star Lambertville team, 4-2, at Lambertville. Tom Wood pitched the first three innings for Princeton, allowing two runs and one hit. Carmelo Manro took over and pitched scoreless ball for the middle three innings and Skip Sineck hurried the final three frames, also allowing no runs.

Princeton scored all of its runs in the first two innings to gain the victory. With two out in the first, Curt Mitchell singled, stole second and scored on a hit by Bill Wood. In the second, Walt Brower walked, Dave Tessin singled, Bill McGuire singled home Brower, and Bill Kehue clouted a two-run double to provide the inning runs.

The two teams have scheduled a return match this Saturday at 10 at the high school field. Sineck will start for Princeton.

SWIMMING MEET SET

By YMCA Flying Fish Club. The third annual Spomer Swim Championships, sponsored by the YMCA Flying Fish Club, will be held on August 13 for boys and August 22 for girls. Both meets will be held at the Y Center and entries will be made by teams.

First and second place trophies will be awarded to the clubs accumulating the most points in both the boys' and girls meets, and ribbons will be given to the first six place winners in all events. Events will be included for children 5 years and under, 11-12 years, 13-14 years and 15-17 in all four competitive strokes.

The championships were developed by the Flying Fish Club to provide swimming clubs in the Princeton area with an opportunity for summer competition and to encourage competitive swimming. The River Road Swim Association was last year's winner, with the Wilton Club of Kendall Park taking second place.

with a 61 on the second day of the tourney.
Donovan carded a two-under par 70 on his own ball on the second round, and Bacon had an 80. Donovan made one of the best shots of the tournament in the final round when he blasted out of a trap on the 15th and rolled the ball into the hole 50 feet away for a birdie three.

News Of The CHURCHES

TEENAGERS COMMENT
On Church At Work. "We got to see a lot of the country — the good side and bad," Rosemarie Ward, 16, said the other day about her tour of Presbyterian institutions.

Rosemarie, her brother John, 17, and Harold Britton, Jr., 17, all members of Plainsboro Presbyterian's Senior Seekers, joined 30 teenagers from the Germantown area on the two-weeks' bus trip.

The purpose of the expedition, according to the Rev. Robert L. Blackwell of Plainsboro, was to show the church at work, and to get a deeper appreciation of what we mean when we say 'the Church.' Also it gives them a feeling that as young people, they can be part of the church beyond Plainsboro."

Ditch Crew. The group packed their own food, and slept in sleeping bags most of the time. "Those floors were hard, too!" Rosemarie says.

"We left a lot of sweat in the Ozarks," Harold said of their eight-day visit to the College of the Ozarks. Divided into ditch, sidewalk and stone crews, the young people put in 580 ft. of sidewalk at the campus.

"We went out to the quarry with an old Army truck and loaded up the stones," Jones inserted. "We saved them over $2000 including labor — they shovelled us the cost sheet."

The group worked so hard the first three days that they finished everything they had for us. Then they found more for us to do."

The teenagers were interested in the College's growing enrollment. "They expect about 1,000 students when this new dormitory is finished," and its rating. "It's not accredited yet — but it will be."

Relief Checks. On a grocery buying trip in a Kentucky A & P market, they were surprised to find the store so crowded. "We asked the cashier why, and he said, 'It's because it's the first of the month and the relief checks are in.' Harold reported, "Seems they have one big week a month, and it's a short turn the rest of the time."

"They found the Kentuckians 'very friendly people — dress a lot of hillbilly style.' Asked about clothes sent from donors at churches in the North,

"THEY REALLY MADE US WORK IN THE OZARKS." Three teenagers from Plainsboro Presbyterian Church, John Ward (left), Harold Britton and Rosemarie Ward, have completed a two-weeks tour of Presbyterian-sponsored institutions. (Story this page)

Harold said, "We got kind of criticized on that!"

"Only about 15% of the clothes are wearable, one minister told us. He said that if we send anything down they should be new ones... people in this area have pride just like anywhere else."

The teenagers were much concerned by the poverty they saw in St. Louis, the Ozarks and Kentucky hamlets. Harold said, "The next time I hear the guys complain around here, I'm going to tell them, 'You don't know how lucky you are until you go to places like that.'"

"Churches. They stopped at a number of churches including the modern Fox Chapel in suburban Pittsburgh and a large old church in Dayton. The churches were no nicer than ours. And about the same amount of pews were filled as ours."

"The worst place," Rosemarie said sadly, "was the Presbyterian Church Welfare Agency at Buckhorn, Ky. 'They put the children there when there is nothing they can do for them at home. They try to get them good homes. The children I saw were about four or five years old,' she added. 'Their chapel was very pretty. They built it themselves.'"

Racial Detour. The group was scheduled to visit the Renwick Conference Campgrounds in Aberdeen, Miss. We called the chief of police and he said, 'better not come.' Harold related, "We had Pennzy written in big letters on our shirts. They circumscribed the whole thing and substituted Vanderbilt University."

There was a certain amount of hijinks on the trip, which the youngsters remember with pleasure. "We put a pig in the girl's dormitory." "We put potato chips in the boys' shoes." "At Vanderbilt, the college kids climbed up our windows." "It was a lot of fun," said Rosemarie. "We're going to have a reunion in September." To sum up the tour came Harold's comment: "One thing I noticed was how well the Church works with other organizations to try meet problems."

Sports In Princeton

LITTLE LEAGUES DUE Results of the Little League Finals Conference. Here, two weekends of Little League Baseball have been scheduled for Princeton University Park.

This Saturday at 2, the northern and southern champions of the State Division in New Jersey will meet to determine the victor. The winner will be the final survivor from among 49 leagues which have been in action this summer.

Next weekend, doubleheaders among four regional champions are scheduled. Teams entered will be the Silvercross from New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

The first game of Friday's doubleheader is scheduled for 2 o'clock, with the second starting at 5.

On Saturday, losers of Friday's games will meet at 10 a.m. in a consolation round, with the winners paired in the championship final at 2 o'clock. The victor at the end of Saturday's action will go to the national championships to be played at Louisville, Ky.

Boys in the Little League's Senior Division are eligible to 15 years old and there are some 245 leagues active throughout the nation. Jack and Shinkos of Belle Mead is tournament director for the games being played here.

MRS. WHELAN WINS

In Women's Golf, Mrs. James Whelan won the tee-to-green tournament played among women members at Springle last week, posting a net 44.

The runner-up was Mrs. Robert Shaw with a net 47.

Mrs. Paul Johnston won the nine-hole contest with a net 20, followed by Mrs. William Saxon 3rd with 21. Winners of the full handicap tournament last month were Mr. Donald Pruland, net 75 for 90 holes and Mrs. Thomas James, net 38 for 9. The respective runners up were Mrs. Curtis Mitchell and Mrs. Paul O'Grady.

SALESMEN
Join a growing organization in an exciting business. We are looking for two salesmen who like to meet people and don't mind working hours for high earnings. We prefer men with automobile sales experience. However, we will consider any man with sales experience in other fields. We sell the most popular line of American compact cars and imported sports cars and have 100 recently moved into new modern facilities. Call us today for an interview.

TWO-HOME TREND INCREASING
Electricity For Heating Also On Upswing

"Two cars in every garage, and two garages for every car is one builder's summation of the trend to well-built vacation homes."

"Shorter work weeks and longer vacations have created the demand for a vacation-home-away-from-home for thousands of families."

"Furthermore, the demand is for 'year-around' type construction. The family with a place at the beach may want to go there in mid-winter just as much as a family of ski-nuts goes for their chalet."

"Complete electrical house heating makes it all make sense."

"It's ready to go to work the instant it's switched on. 'Not only is it the perfect fuel . . . but with electricity, the equipment itself is going to stay in line shape from one visit to the next.'"

Electrical heating systems need no seasonal cleanings. There are few or no moving parts to get out of order.

Two-Home Cost Justifiable

A study bearing out the two-home trend says that increased leisure time and earlier retirement are two influencing factors.

A family of four with time to travel long distances might find the travel cost to far places prohibitive. The same money going into a house "is invested, not just expended."

It's also noted that couples with young children are finding that the money that used to go into camp tuition goes a good way toward the cost of "the second home."

"The most outright 'proof of the pudding,' though comes from an electrical contractor in New Jersey who says that many of his customers for 'conversion' found out how much more easy and comfortable living can be in an electrically heated house . . . now want the same high standards for their main homes."

"Equalized" Electricity Payment Plan Exploined

You may turn on your electrical heating system for a couple of hours throughout the summer when it's cold and rainy outside.

Otherwise, you use it when you need it . . . and you're apt to need it most, in the Northeast part of the United States in January.

In fact you use approximately 21% of your total annual consumption of electricity in January. This is the finding of a major utility company's study of electrically heated homes.

The figure, incidentally, includes electricity for all other usages as well: lighting, appliances.

But — where the 10-payment plan is in effect — the homeowner isn't going to have to take the 21% sock all at once, right after Christmas.

Amazingly close estimates of usage can be figured in advance by the utility company, which then divides the total by 10 and spreads the cost over 10 months, September to June.

If the cost should be more you would be billed. But not until July.

If the actual usage proves lower than the estimate it's credited.

If You Are Planning To Build, Buy or Remodel Call Any One Of The Contractors Listed Below. He'll Give You All The Facts On Total Electric Home Heating.

UP-DATE... ANTIQUE HEATING NOW!

This elegant relic reminds us of by-gone days. Be elegant, better your days ahead with total electric home heating.

QUESTION BOX

Q. What is considered good insulation for the basement of an electrically heated house?

A. According to the National Mineral Wool Association, the recommendations differ on the region.

The three designations are:

- Unusually mild winters, such as Atlanta-Dallas.
- Usually normal winters, such as New York, New Jersey, St. Louis.
- Usually severe winters, such as Buffalo-Minneapolis.

R7 insulation is acceptable in the "unusually mild" range; R-8 is recommended for "usually normal" and the figure jumps to R-11 for the "usually severe" belt. As any experienced electrical contractor will tell you, invest in the best insulation at the outset and save forever after.

There is no waste with electrical heating, as there is with older systems, so all of it can be utilized providing the construction of the dwelling is sound and draft-free.

Q. Is electricity for heating purposes more common in homes than in larger structures?

A. The usage of electricity as the sole fuel to heat homes has mushroomed so in the last three and a half or so years that it captures the imagination.

For the record, however, schools, office buildings, factories and skyscraper apartments in some large cities are also totally heated by electricity . . . and as with homes, this commercial trend is also increasing.

WOODS AND A BROOK this fine home has all the seduction for outdoor living that Nature, in her boundless kindness, can provide. In doors, there is central air-conditioning, a living room with fireplace, a dining room, a nice kitchen with plenty of room for breakfast, a very large family room with powder room nearby, an oversize 2-car garage, 4 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. $39,500

3 BEAUTIFUL ACRES here is blessed seclusion in your own woods, yet this charming cape cod is only minutes from town and, for the commuter, merely a pleasant jaunt for the family taxi service. Entry hall, living room with fireplace, separate dining room paneled in pine, a huge (20 x 30) pine-paneled room for the grand piano, 3 bedrooms, bath and powder room. This should be seen before you decide that you have seen everything. $42,500

A VIEW OF THE LAKE is only one of the attractions of this residence. There is a big living room and fireplace, and a balcony leading to 3 large bedrooms (one so large it could easily become 2) and 2 1/2 baths. Downstairs, a separate dining room, a large kitchen, a family room with bar and powder room, maid's room, laundry, 2-car garage. Outdoors, on this wooded lot, is that heavenly asset of summer - a big beautiful swimming pool, with clear blue water and a fenced yard for sun bathing. Immediate occupancy. $55,500

WENTEN SECTION on two beautiful acres off the main highway. And now that the splendor of its shade trees arching over this lovely home provides the perfect background for its impeccable landscaping of laurel, rhododendrons and andromeda, you will see why this is, perhaps, our favorite dwelling. 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, a beautiful family room which could be another bedroom. Use of swimming pool and tennis courts. However, none of that is necessary to convey the aura of sheer beauty that makes this home so precious. $66,500

GEORGIAN COLONIAL with 5 bedrooms, 3 baths and powder room which offers everything that is desirable in country living, including its location on Mercer Road, and the fact that it is next door to Battledale Park. This fine home has been meticulously maintained and the perfection of its landscaping, and its decor, bespeak its quality to the perceptive home-seeker. Here is a residence that you'll enjoy. If you'll never quite get over the pleasure of your first visit as you approach the house under the spreading sycamores and the other leafy giants that line Princeton's most beautiful street. $74,000
